School Board May Install Stoker In Central School

Substitute Teachers To Be Paid Minimum Rate Of $6 Per Day; Janitor J. Kinneer Resigns.

Regular meeting of the school board was held on Thursday evening. Present, chairman George Evans, Trustees D. Holly and J. McNeil.

Mr. Joe Emmerson was appointed auditor for the year 1946.

Prior to the raise in wages janitor Frank Paterson had been granted an $80 bonus to be spread over the four winter months as it was recognized that increased work was involved during the winter months.

The board debated this bonus on Tuesday and instructed secretary that this bonus was to be considered null and void due to the increase in wages granted janitor Paterson. Notice of motion was given that the motion of Sept 16 granting this bonus would be rescinded.

A letter of resignation was read from janitor J. Kinneer. It was dated Nov. 16 and stated his services with the board would be considered ended on December 14. An advertisement for a janitor was authorized to be placed in The Journal.

Discussion took place regarding substitute teachers' wage rates. Heretofore rates were determined by the class the teacher taught, whether intermediate or elementary. In future it was decided to pay all substitute teachers a minimum $6 per day basis.

As has been recorded before the grades in the school at Central school are in very poor condition and the board has been unable to buy new grates throughout western Canada. The installation of a coal stoker is now being considered and J. McNeil was authorized to gain all information possible on stokers. It is intended to secure a stoker to burn slurry which would cut fuel costs considerably.

While on the subject of stokers and coal it was revealed that McGillivray has, for some considerable time, been receiving all school coal orders. It was agreed to split the coal orders between the two mines.

During the examination of accounts the light invoice was seen to record 438 kilowatts for Central school and 310 kilowatts for high school. Secretary stated this was abnormally high and trustee Holly was instructed to investigate the matter.

Mr. Frank Duncanson of Coleman Playgoers' Club was present to seek the facilities of the school auditorium for the club. He stated that the members were at present practicing in homes which naturally do not have proper facilities for the actors. He guaranteed that the place would be properly looked after and that the members would leave the auditorium in the same clean condition as they found it. The members did not expect the board to be out-of-pocket in accommodating them and should small costs be entailed the club would make them good. The question of lights was touched. Mr. Duncanson stated that the club would be willing to undertake this small cost.

MAIL, T. B. MONEY, TO AUTHORIZED DEPOTS

In certain Alberta cities unauthorized persons are canvassing Tuberculosis Christmas Seals from door to door and keeping the money.

In case someone should come into Coleman and pull off the same practice it is urged that householders immediately report the canvasser to the police. Christmas seals will be sent to many Colemanites through the mail. The money for those seals should be mailed to the depot whose address will be clearly shown on the envelope containing the seals. In this district the Lethbridge Kinsmen have charge of the campaign.

Civic Centre To Be Discussed At Dec. 17 Meeting

A number of circular letters are being sent out this week to all local organizations asking that each body delegate two or more of its members to attend a meeting on Tuesday, Dec. 17, for the purpose of discussing a civic centre.

Since practically every adult in town will belong to some organization the committee formed a few weeks ago to stir up interest in a civic centre hopes to get a cross-section of public opinion on the subject.

Each organization should either be for the project or against it and its delegation should be so informed and have full authority to enter into debate. There definitely should be no "sitting on the fence" by any local organization.

Should the Dec 17 meeting decide to carry the project farther then a public meeting will be called in either January or February.

MARJORIE OLECHOW HONORED

The CYO members gathered at the home of Miss Marjorie Olechow on Thursday last to honor her on the occasion of her forthcoming marriage.

The honored guest was presented with a lovely cake plate by Miss Josephine Michalsky on behalf of the members. Rev. Leo Sullivan praised highly Miss Olechow's activities in the organization and stated that the members would greatly miss her aid.

Bingo was played, followed by a dainty lunch provided by the members, of which approximately 25 were present.

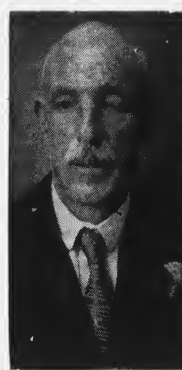

HONORED ON TWENTIETH ANNIVERSARY

On Saturday evening a few friends gathered in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Getman to celebrate the occasion of their twentieth wedding anniversary. The table was decorated with flowers and an anniversary cake. After a delicious supper, dancing and singing were enjoyed. The honored guests were presented with lovely gifts for which they thanked their friends. The party broke up in the early morning hours.

The board agreed to allow the Playgoers' club to use the auditorium, a schedule to be drafted and adhered to by the club.

Alex. Fyfe Passed Away On Friday Evening

Had Been A Shepherd In Early Manhood; In Hospital Three Days; Funeral Held Monday Afternoon.

Alexander Fyfe, Coleman's grand old man, passed away peacefully in sleep at the local hospital on Friday evening at 9:30 o'clock in his eighty-fifth year. He was predeceased by his wife on August 17 last and had grieved her loss during the past few months. Due to his advanced age his health was none too robust and he had been cared for by his four daughters. It was deemed advisable on Tuesday of last week to remove him from his daughter's, Mrs. Dave Robert, home to the local hospital. His family were at his bedside when he came.

Born at Letham, Forfarshire Scotland, Mr. Fyfe attended school and grew into young manhood in his native town. In 1887 at Arbroath he married Mrs. Fyfe and their family of four daughters were born there.

He was employed as a shepherd and watched over his flocks in the field before deciding to come to Canada. He was preceded to this country by his three eldest daughters, Mrs. George Ford coming to Belleville, Ont. while Mrs. Dave Robert and Mrs. Alex. Morency came direct to Blairmore. In 1911 Mr. Fyfe came direct to Coleman where he gained employment at McGillivray Creek as stable boss, a position he held till 1916 when he took over a similar position at International holding this position seventeen years until his retirement at the age of 72. Mrs. Fyfe and youngest daughter, now Mrs. R. Oliver joined him in 1913.

Despite their advanced ages they often thought of Bonnie Scotland, their old homeland and immediately following his retirement he and his wife departed for Scotland, biding their family a fond adieu.

Once in Scotland however and having visited scenes of their younger days the severance from family members proved too much and they returned to Coleman to be once more among their family. They rented a home on Fourth street and Mr. Fyfe spent all his time in growing a flower garden and took keen pleasure in watching (Continued on Back Page)

CLAN DONNACHAIDH SPONSORED SUCCESSFUL DANCE

Coleman Clan Donnachaidh Society sponsored a most successful St. Andrew's Day dance in the Community hall last Friday evening. Dance lovers were present from many Pass, points and Ed's orchestra supplied snappy modern music.

The Society this week has forwarded an order to Scotland for drums. These instruments should arrive here within the next few months and be available to the pipe band drummers for the spring.

The band's executive has worked hard to build up a healthy fund with which to buy uniforms and instruments and up to the present time has done wonderfully well. More functions are planned for the future with Burns' Night, Jan. 24, next on the social program schedule.

Lions View Film Depicting Pulp And Paper Industry

Film Shown To High School Student; Delegates Appointed To Attend Civic Centre Meeting.

On Monday evening at the regular supper-meeting Coleman Lions were treated to a most interesting technicolor film depicting the Pulp and Paper Industry at Powell River, B.C. The film was secured by A. Balliol from Powell River Sales Company Ltd. and featured the Pulp and Paper industry from the green forests of British Columbia until the paper was shipped on railway cars and steamships at coast shipping terminals to various parts of the world.

In addition to showing how the timber was cut and hauled out of the forest it took one on a trip through the pulp and paper mills in addition to a sightseeing trip of the city of Powell River. The beautiful homes, hospitals, schools and civic centre in addition to the recreational facilities gave the Lions much food for thought.

The film was shown to high school students Monday afternoon. Jim Cousins used his 16 mm. projector with loud speaker attachment to screen the film.

Jim Wilkie and Herb Hewitt have been appointed the club's delegation to attend the civic centre meeting on Dec. 17.

DR. JOSEPH LETTRICH TO VISIT CANADA

The president of the Slovak National Council, Dr. Joseph Lettrich came to the U. S. to pay tribute to his fellow countrymen. Dr. Lettrich is a leader of the Slovak Democratic Party in Czechoslovakia. During the war he was organizing the Slovaks in the uprising against the opposition. He came to the USA and will later come to Canada to inform the Slovak populace about the new Czechoslovakian Constitution and the equal rights for the Czechs and Slovaks in the newly built Czechoslovakian Republic. Dr. Lettrich will visit a few of the U.S. cities which are thickly populated with Czechs and Slovaks. In his first interview before the correspondent in New York he paid high tribute to the UNRRA and thanked them for the great help they were giving to the Slovak Nation.

Require $275,000 to Construct And Equip Municipal Hospital; Original Estimate of $185,000 Now Inadequate

Board of Public Utility Commissioners Refused Permission To Issue The Required Additional $90,000; Rise in Material and Labor Costs Responsible.

The ratepayers of the Crows Nest Pass Municipal District No. 40 are to be asked to grant permission to the hospital board to issue debentures to the amount of $275,000 to properly construct and equip a modern 50-bed municipal hospital. While no date has been officially set it is expected the vote will be taken in either January or early February.

When the original estimate was made in August, 1944, it was confidently believed that $180,000 would construct and equip the building. Numerous obstacles have confronted the board almost from the outset causing serious delay in actual construction. The site, for instance, caused months of delay before it was finally secured. Sharp increases in the cost of material and labor has resulted in the construction and equipment going up to another $90,000, this being practically half of the original estimate of $185,000.

The hospital board sought the sanction of the Board of Public Utilities for the additional $90,000 debenture issue but this has been refused, the suggestion being made to either go to the ratepayers for their sanction to the increase or to trim down the original plans and build a smaller hospital.

Council Approves No Sunday Milk Delivery

This Practice to be Maintained During Winter Months; Owners of Horses to be Prosecuted if Animals Found Trespassing in Town.

Regular meeting of the council was held on Tuesday evening. Present Mayor Abbassafy, Councilors Dutil, Jenkins, Love, Ramsay and Wilson.

Joe Fauville, plant manager of Pass Dairy, was present to seek council's support in putting into practice a no milk delivery on Sundays during the winter months. The milk truck drivers had already made known their intentions to the Pass Dairy to refrain to deliver milk on Sunday during the winter months. Council gave its support to the no Sunday delivery and on Sunday next the practice will be put into operation.

Considerable discussion took place regarding the organization of a public library. It was agreed to have secretary secure information regarding libraries and discuss the subject at the next regular meeting.

The problem of horses roaming the town was discussed. Several suggestions were made but the one finally adopted was to fine the owners of all horses trespassing within the town and bring them into court where they would be prosecuted.

It is the considered opinion of the local hospital board that a smaller hospital for this large industrial area would prove inadequate and for that reason it is going to the ratepayers to sanction sufficient money to build a hospital that will be most suitable to the area's requirements.

Plans and specifications having been completed tenders were called for the construction of the hospital. Three tenders were received. Shogquist Construction (Western) Ltd., Calgary was awarded the contract on a tender of $202,995.00. This in itself was more than the total hospital budget of $185,000 authorized by the ratepayers on Dec. 16, 1944. In addition a breakdown of the equipment required revealed a cost of $70,000 making a total of $275,000 approximately.

During the two years the provisional and elected boards have been in office, money has been spent and assets accumulated. Should the ratepayers sanction the additional $90,000, actual construction of the hospital will start the moment spring starts to thaw the snow and ice on the site.

During January the hospital board plans a series of public meetings in all centres in the area to thoroughly acquaint the ratepayers with the progress made and the reason why the additional debentures should receive their support.

Purchase was made of a Swenson Self Feeding Spreader. This machine can spread sand or cinders to any stipulated depth, and it can crush any frozen or moist soil and spread it to the required depth.

The town will string its colored lights across main street and help decorate the street for Christmas.

Steve Bettenger, town nuisance ground superintendent, was present to ask council to boost his annual wages from $80 to $100. Council granted his request and will notify the provincial department of health of the boost as the department pays half the wages.

The Health League of Canada has started a nation wide campaign to have all milk consumers serviced with pasteurized milk. Council added its support to the campaign.

About a month ago a charge was made that over-pumping was being done and that the dam was "overflowing. A letter from Coleman Light & Water Co. denied this charge. It was proved that recent rains had tended to cause the creek to rise and this had caused the dam to overflow.

EXPERIENCE OF ALBERTA TOWN OF PONOKA PROVES VALUE OF PASTEURIZATION

Proof of the efficacy of pasteurization of milk is seen in a report received recently by Health League of Canada officials from the town of Ponoka in Alberta.

During a Canada-wide survey in connection with milk pasteurization, Ponoka officials reported a compulsory pasteurization by-law had been passed in the town in 1944 following repeated outbreaks of undulant fever, and when it was found that two of the herds used in supplying milk to the town were seriously infected with Bang's disease. Bang's disease, or brucella abortus, in animals can lead to undulant fever, or brucellosis, in humans.

It was noted further that "since then no case of the disease has been reported."

From this report from Ponoka, it is obvious that pasteurization is a means of eliminating undulant fever—a disease the seriousness of which is not revealed in available statistics because of diagnostic difficulties. Undulant fever is a disease which does not show characteristic symptoms.

Nevertheless, undulant fever toll can be cut through use of pasteurized milk, just as it has been proven that the toll from bovine tuberculosis, scarlet fever, septic sore throat, typhoid fever, paratyphoid and dysentery—all milk-borne diseases.

The example set by Ponoka and some other towns and cities is commendable and encouraging, but the problem of eliminating milk-borne diseases throughout Canada can be solved only through enactment by the various provincial legislatures of compulsory pasteurization legislation which covers all municipalities and other districts. Only then will the Dominion be assured of a milk supply which is 100 per cent. safe. Ontario at present is the only province with compulsory pasteurization legislation in force.

HAS NEW IDEA

Doctor Thinks Everyone Should Work As Long As They Like
CLEVELAND, Ohio.—The population of the United States, the statisticians say, will be 150,000,000 by 1980—and this number is expected to include 21,000,000 in the 65 and over age group.

Such a prospect brought an appeal by one medical expert that science should do something about the aged and chronically ill. Dr. Theodore Klump, former chief of the food and drug administration of the U.S. department of agriculture, believes that a man or woman should be permitted to work as long as they like.

"We can't plow them as we used to plow under corn, potatoes, tobacco, and little pigs," he told the closing session of the 74th annual meeting of the American Public Health Association.

Dr. Klump said that in the past medical scientists have been more preoccupied with the diseases of youth and childhood, but that as a result "we now have an adult population that is larger in proportion than it has ever been before."

It promises to grow even larger as the years go by, he said, and by 1980, the 45 years of age and over group will compose 40.3 per cent. of the population with the 65 year old group at 21,000,000 or 14.4 per cent.

He said that science should go after such diseases as heart disease, coronary thrombosis, nephritis, arthritis and cancer—which are prevalent in the older-age groups.

Dr. Klump also warned of new problems arising out of the invention of new labor-saving devices which he said would "be on a scale never dreamed of before."

Just the same, he insisted, those in the older groups should be permitted to continue to give their wisdom and mature judgment as long as they are able to do so.

"Youth can loaf content with optimistic dreams of future achievements," he said, "but as we grow older the realities of life are more clearly seen and less easily denied, and as we approach 50 to 60, we can no longer derive solace from the pipe dreams of future achievements."

LINE WAS BENT

Attu, westernmost island of the Aleutian chain, is the farthest west of all United States possessions. Technically, it is in the western hemisphere, but international law bent the international dateline to the west of the island, so that it would have the same time schedule as the rest of the chain.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—
A Better Place
By VICTOR DI CASTRI

Wheeler Newspaper Syndicate

JACKIE worked feverishly on the trench with his spade as the forest fire belled a few yards away. Grimly he wished with all the passion of his fifteen years that he had been sent to Reform School instead of to the Mt. View Forestry Camp to fight forest fires. "That stupid old judge with all his crazy ideas about juvenile delinquency, treating me as if I didn't know what it was all about!" Jackie fumed.

He looked up at the sun which was a red ball's-eye in the black sky beating into him the fact that he was mortally afraid of the fire and that everyone in the camp knew it. How else could you explain that he didn't have a friend in the camp except Dolly the pet cat? And now even Dolly was gone. Oh yes, every now and then you could still hear the bell she wore around her neck tinkling in the distance but her chances of coming through the fire alive weren't worth peanuts even if the so-called best man in the Camp had gone into the roaring flames to bring her back. Jackie looked down the line of sweating, anxious faces. One of the fellows said, "Yeah, that's what happens when you make a pet out of an animal. You put 'em up against nature and they ain't got anything to fight with."

And then Higgins, the Camp Superintendent yelled, "Bob's been gone ten minutes now. That's too long. Something's happened to him." Jackie had forgotten all about Bob. It seemed like an eternity since he had volunteered to go in and bring back Dolly. Higgins was shouting to one of the other boys, "You take charge here, I'm going in after Bob." Something snapped inside of Jackie. He didn't like Bob. Bob was like the rest of the fellows, only more so, enjoying their work, thankful that they had been sent to a Forestry Camp instead of Reform School, and as Higgins constantly repeated, "looking forward to the day when they would take their places in society unshamed of their past and hopeful for their future."

Up to this moment Jackie convinced that Bob was out there in the flames for the sole purpose of doing something spectacular so he could brag about it later in the camp. Bob was always being praised for something. Jackie guessed grudgingly that that's how you got to be a Section Leader. Nevertheless, deep down inside Jackie had been almost certain Bob would bring Dolly back alive. And now—

Jackie leaped across the trench as Higgins hollered, "Get back to your job." Then incredulously the Superintendent added, "You can't do that. Come back here." But Jackie didn't hear. He was listening intently. It was like the night he and his former pals had broken into the bakery. He had told them then that he had heard a sound but they had only laughed. And look where that laugh had got them. In a Forestry Camp. He had heard the sound now even if the crackling flames were trying to convince him otherwise. There just had to be a sound. It was just a matter of listening hard enough. There it was! To the right of him. No, to the left.

His eyes smarted and tears rolled down to the corners of his mouth. He tried to swallow but there was nothing to swallow but smoke. He gasped for air as the flames lashed out at him. Where was Dolly? There was her bell, damn it. It was to the right. He ran, ducked and leaped through the inferno as Dolly's bell pounded in his ears.

And then he had his arms around her. For a moment he still held her and cried as Dolly whimpered and struggled close to him. And then he heard a groan. It was Bob, under a tree.

Something in Jackie's heart melted. Bob had found Dolly and he would have saved her if he hadn't been caught under that falling tree. Jackie knew then that Bob hadn't gone into the fire to show-off. He wouldn't be lying there like that. Even his groan had had the steadiness which personified Bob; there was no panic, no fear.

Jackie rushed over to him. "It's OK, Bob. I'll get you out of there." A trace of a smile tried to steal across Bob's grimy, sweaty face but the effort was too much and he just closed his eyes. Jackie never knew how he got the burning tree off of his human stand or how he managed to drag Bob through the fire. But everyone was telling Jackie, "You were great kid." Their pats on the back said even more. Even Higgins said, "To tell you the truth, Jackie, I'm surprised, but I've just got to shake the hand of a lad who risks everything to save a pal."

Jackie clasped the older man's hand and tried to say "thanks," but something caught in the boy's throat. It was a new and strange feeling of shame. He hadn't gone in to the fire to save Bob, it had been solely for Dolly. But Jackie knew now that he had sweated out his fear and that in a similar situation he would try and be another Bob. It was a wonderful feeling to go through fire and come out unafraid. Didn't God say going through fire cured you of something and prepared you for a better place?

Bronze chandeliers whose candles gave light for Pitt and Burke will probably carry some of the newer lighting of the new House of Commons, though they have not been seen in the Chamber since the fire of 1834.

They have been bought with that intention by the Ministry of Works from the Tennyson-d'Eyncourt family, in whose Lincolnshire seat of Bayona Manor, Tealby, five of them have been hanging since that date. There were originally eight, but one of the squares of Tealby put three of them in a village school which was burnt down and they were lost.

At the time of the 1834 fire the head of the family, an uncle of Lord Tennyson, was member for one of the London boroughs, and he acquired the chandeliers to light a new banqueting hall. The last occupier of the manor, Mrs. E. C. Tennyson-d'Eyncourt, gave them, after the fashion of the times, to live in a neighboring cottage. She is glad to see the return of the chandeliers to Westminster, and with them the glass candle shades, which have all been carefully preserved.—Manchester Guardian.

SMILE AWHILE

During the Sunday morning sermon, a baby began to cry at the top of its voice, and its mother carried it toward the door. "Stop!" said the minister. "Your baby is not disturbing me."

The mother turned toward the pulpit and addressed the preacher: "Oh, he ain't, ain't he? Well you're a-disturbing him."

Calling her husband into the kitchen, the worried housewife exclaimed in annoyance. "Good gracious, Jack! How could you think of bringing that man Robinson home to supper when you know I'm fall cleaning?"

"Hush, m'dear!" said hubby urgently. "He's the only man I know strong enough to help me move the dining-room sideboard."

The door of the ladies' hairdressers' shop opened and in came a sleek-looking little man, twisting his hat nervously in his hand. One of the assistants approached him. "What can I have the pleasure in?" she cooed.

"Er—could you spare a blond hair for my shoulder?" he stammered. "I want to make my wife jealous."

As they walked home together, Tom told Fred he was going to give his wife a serious talk on economy.

When they met again next day, Fred asked: "Well, did you give the missus that economy lecture?" "I did," replied Tom. "Any results?" "Yes—er—I'm going to give up smoking."

Counsel was cross-examining a farmer. "Now," he said, "don't quibble. Do you understand a simple problem or not?"

"No," replied the witness. "Then tell the court this: If fifteen men ploughed a field in five hours, how long would thirty men take to plough the same field?" "They couldn't do it."

"Why not?" "Because the fifteen have already ploughed it."

"Oh, mamma," exclaimed little Elizabeth, when the dessert was served, "how I wish you had told me this morning that you were going to have ice cream for dinner!"

"Why, dear, what difference would it have made?" asked mother.

"Oh, lots," replied the youngster, with a sigh. "I could have expected it all day, then."

IF HEAD COLDS HANG ON..

DO THIS! To relieve discomforts, one of the best things you can do is put a good spoonful of home-tested Vicks VapoRub in a bowl of boiling water. Then feel welcome relief come as you breathe in the steaming medicated vapors that penetrate to the cold-congested upper breathing passages! See how this soothes irritation, quiet coughing, and helps clear the head-bringing grand comfort.

FOR ADDED RELIEF... rub throat, chest and back with VapoRub at bedtime. Vicks VapoRub works for hours—2 ways at once—to bring relief from distress. Remember, it's Vicks VapoRub you want.

Forest Conservation

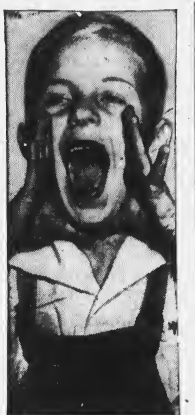

Is Of Greater Importance Than Placing Embargo On Lumber

Sir Oliver Mowat made the north shore of Georgian Bay a hive of sawmill industry by putting an embargo on sawlogs which were at the time going to cities like Bay City and Saginaw in Michigan but the same north shore is far from being a hive of sawmill industry at this time says the Port Arthur News-Chronicle. It is more noted for its ghost towns. That, however, was not due to the embargo. It was due to cutting without regard to the future. It would appear therefore, that conservation, whether with or without embargo, is more important.

IMPORTANT MEAL

No matter how busy a mother may be, she will find that it pays in more ways than one, to serve a substantial breakfast at home. Health officers of the Department of National Health and Welfare, in stressing the value of a well-balanced, fresh, morning meal, suggest that this will save the mother a lot of trouble later, since "a well-fed child is a happy child" and will not require as much attention later in the day. 2701

First Wheat Shipped East 70 Years Ago

Only 860 bushels was the amount and to get it to Montreal for making into flour was a real job. What it meant to Canada and the world in the years since is common knowledge but the details should be kept fresh in our minds and due credit given to those who made our West possible by their pioneering and courage. It was the Ogilvie brothers, Alexander Walker Ogilvie, John Ogilvie and William Watson Ogilvie, who brought the first shipment of 860 bushels of wheat from the plains of promise. Crown by Selkirk settlers of Manitoba, this small but precious cargo was hauled on carts to Winnipeg, portaged down the Red River into the United States and thence shipped by rail to the flour mill of the Ogilvie Company in Montreal. They also exported the first shipment of flour milled under British rule in Canada.

Horse Will Run Away But Motor Car Seldom Does

Those who prize the "good old days" are wont to point out that a horse would take you home of its own accord, something an automobile can never do. True enough, but on the other hand, a motor car seldom runs away.

Anyone who can remember the horse-and-buggy days recalls the occasional runaways with something akin to horror. There was a thrill to them, but they were terrifyingly dangerous. A panic-stricken horse can become an agency of dire destruction.

Perhaps automobiles are superior in many ways, but at least they never shy at a piece of paper blown behind them, take the bit in their teeth and set off down the street at break-neck speed, out of all human control.—Windsor Star.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

BRASS BAND

The present movement afoot to reorganize a brass band for Coleman should be encouraged. It is many years since the town boasted a brass band and it was indeed a treat to go down town on a Saturday evening and hear the band playing selections on the street corner with a fairly large listening audience around it.

It would appear that finance has been the bugaboo of past bands. This obstacle can be defeated providing the new band has an energetic committee willing to get out and work. Concerts can be held quite frequently once members have had sufficient practice, and dances, etc., are also good money makers.

The success of the band will rest squarely on the shoulders of its leader and its members. If they have the enthusiasm and spirit to practice and form themselves into a band of which the town can be proud and upon whom the town can call should a community celebration require their services then they should have no fear of future support. Let's have a brass band along with our pipe band.

SOUTHERN HIGHWAY IMPROVES

Hon. W. A. Fallow, according to the Lethbridge Herald, announces the planned construction of a four-span highway traffic bridge spanning the Old Man river at the river bottom west of the Lethbridge city limits. From British Columbia comes the announcement that an extra thirty miles of hard surface will be laid between Elko and Wardner. The Princeton-Hope link is also expected to be completed in 1947. These are concrete improvements in the Southern Trans-Canada Highway and will find favor among the advocates of this route as the southern link from the prairies to Vancouver.

Coleman Board of Trade is once again gathering its forces to prevail upon the Department of Public Works to black-top the Pincher Creek to the provincial boundary at Crow's Nest. A determined effort is being made to prevail upon other Pass towns to add their support to the Coleman appeal and present it as an appeal from the citizens of the Crow's Nest Pass.

LET'S BRIGHTEN OUR TOWN

Christmas is a gala season. People are filled with a sense of happiness as the Yuletide season approaches. There is the urge to buy gifts with which to make others happy. That happiness is carried into the homes via gay decorations and the Christmas trees, sparkling with gay and colored lights in addition to the artificial icicles and other decorations.

Christmas shopping is now in full swing in Coleman and merchants can add to the gaiety of the occasion by appropriately decorating their windows and keeping their lights burning in their store windows a little longer than usual this month. Many prospective purchasers like to walk around the main street in the evening and window shop.

The town, too, can do its share. Many strings of electric lights are in the town's custody. Let's string them across various points on main street. It's wonderful what a little light decoration will do to a store or a street. Let's have our main street sparkling with gay light from now till Christmas.

COST OF CONSTRUCTION

As all are aware the Pass is trying hard to get a modern municipal hospital. When the project was first started back in August, 1944, the cost of constructing and equipping a sixty bed hospital was estimated at $185,000. Today the cost for the same building and equipment stands at $275,000.

We are indebted to The Canadian Bank of Commerce's monthly commercial letter which deals with the subject of construction costs. Its survey it taken on a national basis and reads:

Cost of Construction

"The most complete cost study yet made is that recently completed by the department of reconstruction and supply, Ottawa. This valuable analysis was undertaken as part of an expensive survey of housing requirements, with the aid of engineers, architects, practical builders, economists and statisticians. The result of the cost study are summarized below.

Taking all factors into account—the increase in materials and wages, as well as the lowered efficiency of construction workers—total costs are estimated by the department to have gone up between 47 and 62 per cent from 1939 to 1945.

It should be emphasized, however, that the increases are national in scope. Considerable variations are apparent in different sections of the country. We know of points where building costs have risen 75 per cent over 1939. It should also be stressed that prices of building materials entering into all of these calculations are those quoted in legitimate trade circles.

The present high cost and low efficiency of labor are due partly to pre-war and war conditions. During the period 1924-39 house-building activity in urban areas in Canada averaged 32,000 units per year, ranging from 50,000 in 1928 down to 14,000 in 1933. Work in the construction industry was highly irregular, with the result that young men sought employment, not as carpenters, stone-masons and bricklayers, but in other forms of endeavour. Thus the construction labor force, having failed to receive an adequate number of young recruits for fifteen years (less than 200 per year in the 1930's) became older with an inevitable accompanying loss in efficiency. By 1941, the last census year, 67 per cent of persons working in construction occupations were 35 years of age or over, as against 49 per cent of all persons gainfully employed. During the early years of World War II there was a tremendous boom in construction of war plants of all kinds, but the proportion of young men gained in the new labor force was low due to the requirements of the armed forces and more attractive working conditions in munitions plants. At present the construction industry is recruiting and training new men as fast as it is able, but the fact remains that the cost of building houses in Canada is increased by lack of sufficient skilled men. This phase will pass, of course, as the new recruits increase in experience and knowledge and take over from their predecessors.

TRAGEDY

Radio listeners during the past couple of weeks have been hearing a few jokes about John L. Lewis.

One joke went like this: "I'll take my complaint to President Truman, yes, I'll even go higher than him, I'll take it to John L. Lewis."

That isn't comedy, that's sheer tragedy. Here is probably the greatest country in the world having its government, the constituted power in the country, challenged by one man, who, because his union boasts of 400,000 members and a 13 million dollar bank account thinks he has now become all powerful. Radio directors could help their country by throwing these Lewis jokes out the window instead of on the air.

The war is over, but there remains an enemy at home which will not be defeated until the last germ is dead. Tuberculosis killed nearly 6,000 Canadians last year. Do your part to help stamp out this disease by buying Christmas Seals.

Canadians buy from people of many races—and sell to them—all over the world. Indeed, a third of every Canadian's earnings comes from selling to people in other countries.

In this trading we do not always sell to the people from whom we buy. That is why we have to find customers.

To assist in finding both buyers and sellers, Canadian banks maintain branches or correspondents all over the world. They gather valuable information about people and markets abroad. They place this at the disposal of Canadian merchants, manufacturers and marketing agencies, introduce them to likely customers, and handle the "paper work" involved in transferring goods and money.

Free Show For Youngsters At Christmas; Xmas Hampers to be Given Needy.

Another feather went into the cap of the Coleman Elks lodge last Thursday, when they initiated twenty new members. This brings their membership now to the one hundred and sixty mark, and with several applications expected to come in soon, it is possible that the strength will be two hundred by early spring.

Refreshments later in the evening included buffalo steak sandwiches, ably supplied by Brother Joe Spievak and his kitchen committee.

A delightful evening's entertainment followed, with Exalted Ruler Adam Wilson in the chair. Artists taking part were, Fred Johnson, Wilfred Dutil, Frank Kynel, Bert Bond, Charles Sygutek, Erwin Spievak, Archie Anderson, Joseph Jenkins, Dick Tiffin, George Bell and Dr. Hope Gill.

The new members ably replied to the address of welcome given by Brother W. Dutil.

The Elks are striving for funds with which to erect a new hall sometime in the future.

The kiddies in town are again to be treated to free shows by the Brother Bills this Christmas, providing that all arrangements can be made.

Arrangements have also been made for the presenting of Xmas hampers to needy cases, an annual feature of the Elks in Coleman.

THEATRE NOTES

"Meet The Navy"

The navy blue revue, Canada's own "Meet The Navy," after a whirlwind wartime tour of Canada, Great Britain and the Continent, is now a motion picture and will be presented as the feature attraction at the Palace theatre starting Saturday.

The film, made in England at the British National Films studios, features all the Canadian members of the navy who were seen in the stage production, introduces several new songs as well as all the hits so popular with servicemen and civilians.

After seeing the picture at a preview in New York, the trade paper Variety, one of the screen's severest critics, reported: "This is the best musical picture ever to come out of Britain and can easily take its place with our best Hollywood musicals... this is the more to be marvelled at because it is an amateur production and produced without benefit of Tin-Pan-Alley or the big Hollywood technicians..."

"Meet The Navy," a rollicking broadside of laughs, girls, music and dancing, features many sequences in glowing Technicolor and should prove even more popular with Canadian audiences than the stage revue.

"Badman's Territory"

Spacious and adventurous romance on the Oklahoma frontier, made on an impressive scale and brimful of stirring entertainment, in presented in RKO Radio's "Badman's Territory," which opens Saturday at Cole's theatre with Randolph Scott, Ann Richards and character player George "Gabby" Hayes in top heroic roles. Other players represent such colorful figures of a dynamic era as Jesse James, the Daltons and Belle Starr.

The long political fight during the "Nineties" to bring the "Forgotten Land" that is now the Oklahoma Panhandle under Federal control forms the historical basis for the dramatic plot.

In the rough and tumble setting is laid the stormy love story which motivates the film. A Texas sheriff, who enters the region on a personal matter, and a frontier newspaperwoman campaigning for law and order, are the hero and heroine, respectively, and their romantic troubles are played against a vivid background of bandit raids, politics and personal feuds, and lend the picture a solidly authentic atmosphere.

It is estimated that 60,000 people in this country have tuberculosis—nearly half of whom do not know they have the disease. They are endangering their own lives and the health of others with whom they come in contact. Christmas Seals finance the search for these "hidden" cases.

The double-barred cross is the emblem of the campaign against tuberculosis.

TWO PAMPHLETS ISSUED ON LABOR LEGISLATION

The Dominion Labor Department announces that 1946 revisions of two of its regular publications are now available.

"Workmen's Compensation in Canada—A Comparison of Provincial Laws," is the title of a pamphlet recently issued by the Department.

The pamphlet traces amendments made in the provincial workmen's accident compensation acts since July, 1945, notably the abolition in British Columbia of workmen's contributions to medical aid and the reduction of the waiting period in that province.

A summary of the Merchants' Seamen's Compensation Act, 1946, passed by the Dominion Parliament, is also given in the bulletin. Along the same lines as the similar pamphlet for 1945, there is in this year's edition a complete revision of the section which sets out the conventions and recommendations of the International Labor Organization, in order to permit a comparison between the International Labor Office standards and Canadian provincial statutes.

A second brochure also issued recently is the 1946 revision of the Labor Department's "Provincial Labor Standards Concerning Child Labor, Hours of Work, Minimum Wages and Workmen's Compensation." This carries a new section relating to annual holidays with pay, with a table showing the comparison of holiday pay allowed in Alberta, British Columbia, Ontario, Quebec and Saskatchewan.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bubniak received the sad news last week in a letter from their folks in Czechoslovakia, stating that Mrs. Bubniak's youngest brother was killed in the mine there. He died at the age of 24, but had gained a lot of experience during the war years. He served in the army for five years and was a leader in organizing the Partisans to fight against their oppressors. He was highly praised by his officials and was made a Lieutenant in the Partisans. He travelled through many of the European countries organizing and fighting for the freedom of his country. He had planned on coming to this country as soon as the route was opened.

WEDDINGS

SIMLA-OLECHOW

At 10 a.m. Saturday, November 30, Marjorie, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Olechow, of Coleman, became the bride of Walter Simla, youngest son of Mrs. Martin Simla, of Kelowna and formerly of Coleman, and the late Mr. Simla. Rev. Father Sullivan conducted the service in Holy Ghost church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, entered the church looking charming in a floor length gown of white net with jersey top sweetheart neckline and wearing silver and white accessories. She carried a bouquet of roses and carnations. Her three-quarter-length veil was held in place by a halo headress. Her only ornament was a gold cross, the gift of the groom.

Her only attendant was her sister, Minnie. She was gownned in a blue sheer floor length dress with chapel veil. She carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums.

Mr. Joe Ziajka attended the groom. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Frances Maurer and Mr. Pete Zarka was soloist.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table was centred with a three tiered wedding cake.

The happy couple will leave this week end for Kelowna, BC, where the groom is employed, the bride choosing for travelling a gold suit with brown accessories. The best wishes of the community is extended them for future health and happiness.

TRSTENSKY-WONS

A very lovely wedding took place at Holy Ghost church on Saturday at 10 a.m. when Mary, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Trstensky, became the bride of Joe, eldest son of Mrs. Wons, and the late Mr. Wons, of Hillcrest.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, entered the church to the strains of the Wedding March, played by Mrs. Frances Maurer. She was beautifully dressed in a white short sleeved gown of heavy white silk net. Her long tulle veil was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms. She wore long white gloves and carried a bouquet of roses. Her only ornament was a gold locket, gift of the groom.

The bridesmaids included Martha Ballack, who chose a dress of deep pink sheer; Elizabeth Kratky, who chose a dress of pink taffeta and net; Ann Salus, who chose a gown of blue sheer with pink trimmings and Phyllis Graham who chose a dress of heavy blue net. They all wore matching veils and carried bouquets of mums.

The groom was supported by his brother, John Wons, Tony Sikora, Tom Mottl and Mario Cosmo.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride where 100 guests were present. The bride's table was beautifully decorated with a three tiered wedding cake with a miniature bride and groom on top.

The happy young couple spent a honeymoon at Calgary and have made their home at Hillcrest where the groom is employed.

NEW TRUCKS AND CARS ENROUTE TO COLEMAN

Jim Wilkie, of White Rose Service Station, plans on travelling to Calgary this week to take delivery of another 1947 Studebaker. Jim Kerr, of The Motordrome, will have a half ton G.M. delivery truck on display this week. Coleman Motors has a three ton Mercury truck on the display floor at the present time. It has, however, been sold to a customer in Cowley. Mr. Kerr anticipates delivery of passenger cars within the near future being General Motors dealer for Pontiac and Buick.

Auction Sale Of Timber

Crownest-Bow River Forest Reserve

Timber Sale No. 428

The right to cut certain timber on the following lands will be offered at public auction at the office of the Forest Superintendent, 128 - 7th Avenue West, Calgary, Alberta, at 2:00 o'clock P.M. on Tuesday, the seventh day of January, 1947:

All those portions which are and which would be if the said Township were subdivided under the Alberta System of Land Surveys the North half and Legal Subdivisions 5 and 6 of Section 7; the South half and those portions of Legal Subdivisions, 9, 10, 11 and 12 which lie to the South of a straight line drawn from the North East corner of the said Legal Subdivision 9 to the South West corner of the said Legal Subdivision 12 of Section 18 in Township 7, Range 4, West of the 34th Meridian, containing 1,251 square miles, more or less.

On these lands there is estimated to be approximately 12,000,000 feet board measure of green spruce and pine lumber. No green timber of a diameter of less than ten inches measured eighteen inches from the ground shall be cut.

The sale will be offered at the upset price of dues as prescribed by the Forest Reserves Regulations for sawn lumber of a species other than poplar. If the rate bid is in excess of the regulation rate, dues payable on railway ties shall be commensurate with the price bid.

Otherwise, all other products at the rates prescribed by the Forest Reserves Regulations. Bids will be accepted only from an individual, body corporate, or registered partnership, partners to submit proof of registration at time of bidding, and that the purchaser will be allowed until May 1st, 1951, to cut and remove all timber covered by the conditions of sale.

Each bidder will be required to deposit with the officer conducting the sale the sum of $3,600.00 in cash, bank draft or accepted cheque on any chartered bank in Canada or by certified non-negotiable Transfer Voucher payable to the Provincial Treasurer, before being allowed to bid.

Agents will be required to file letters of authorization from their principals before bidding. The deposits of unsuccessful bidders will be returned to them at the conclusion of the sale and that of the purchaser held as a deposit to guarantee compliance with the terms and conditions of sale.

Full particulars may be obtained from the Forest Superintendent, 128 - 7th Avenue West, Calgary, Alberta, or the Director of Forestry, Edmonton, Alberta.

The Effect Of Strikes

THE CRIPPLING EFFECT OF STRIKES on Canada's industrial life and on the success of the reconversion program have been felt in many places. Shortages of materials resulting from these work stoppages have been responsible for a serious drag in the production of necessary articles ranging from nails to trucks, and from men's shirts to soap and glass. As long as critical shortages exist it is clearly in the interest of consumers to maintain price ceilings and other wartime controls, since to lift these before the supply is equal to the demand, would be to invite disastrous inflation. In spite of controls, black markets have sprung up in some parts of the country in nails, lumber and other articles in short supply, and it is apparent that a normal peacetime economy will not be restored until production can go forward without hindrance.

Decline Seen In Industry

The full effect of strikes on the life of the Canadian people was pointed out recently in an address delivered in Winnipeg by Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Reconstruction and Supply. At that time Mr. Howe told of the manner in which steel and coal strikes in the United States, followed by the lake shipping strike, the strike of lumber workers in British Columbia, the soda ash strike in Ontario and the prolonged strike in the Canadian steel industry slowed down construction work, manufacturing and other vital industries which had begun to expand to meet the heavy demand for goods after the war. "The expansion process, which had begun in March, started to falter in May, as a result of the strikes," Mr. Howe said, "and since then there has been a decline in many industries."

Interests Of Many Affected

In solving the problems which have arisen as a result of the strike situation, Mr. Howe suggested that a spirit of co-operation and mutual aid is needed among all those whose interests are involved. Those whose interests are affected include a large group, not only labour, management and the government, but producers and consumers throughout the country whose business interests and standards of living are affected when strikes are declared. All Canadians, no matter what group they represent, look to full employment and a high standard of living as a basis of security and progress in the years to come. In the words of Mr. Howe, these can only be achieved by "new and vigorous types of co-operative action between federal and provincial governments, between management and labor, and between government as a whole and industry as a whole."

SMOKERS CAUSE BRIDGE TO CATCH FIRE OFTEN

SYDNEY, Australia.—The 1,650 ft. long single span bridge across Sydney harbor catches fire on an average of once a week. The fires occur in the wooden decking of the rail track sections. The main causes are cigarette butts, which lodge in crevices jammed with old train tickets and are fanned by the wind. It has become necessary to increase the number of hydrants to one every 100 feet.

Corporal Punishment

McGill Psychologist Emphasizes Positive Disciplinary Methods
A child who is insecure and emotionally unstable will not benefit from corporal punishment, rather he will suffer unnecessarily, declared Mrs. Edith M. Willis, child psychologist, in a statement issued in connection with her course on "Child Development" at McGill University.

Mrs. Willis, a graduate of Stanford University, in an interview recently, advocated spanking as one form of punishment which would be used effectively in certain cases. In her statement she emphasizes positive methods of securing discipline, such as rewards and praise.

Reward and punishment, she stated, are both part of a plan of discipline. "If corporal punishment is used," she said, "it should be used discriminately and only with a child who is old enough to comprehend what is being done to him."

"It should not be done to free the adult of emotional states, such as anger. The punishment should be carried out at the time the act is going on."

"Rewards which have a close association with the act, and which are not given in the form of bribes, are good. Perhaps the simplest and yet most effective reward is social recognition in the form of praise."

"It should be remembered that a good plan of discipline teaches the child to conform to the socially desirable acts."

"Punishment can be of great harm to children if the adult does not understand fully children's motivation, and also the fact that they are unable to understand as adults."

"Punishment is only a small part of discipline, and children cannot understand many of the adult's methods of using it, making it a harmful means and often an unhealthy way of teaching children."

THE HEART AT FORTY
While life may "begin at Forty," medical science knows that, after that age, more people die of heart disease than from any other single malady. The Department of National Health and Welfare, in noting this fact, urges special care of the health at approach of middle age, with sensible diet and exercise, and avoidance of strain.

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q.—Has the price of prunes been increased?

A.—The Wartime Prices and Trade Board has announced a four to five per cent increase per pound in the retail price of prunes. This increase reflects the recent uncontrolled price rise in the United States, the Board said.

Q.—How many sugar-preserves coupons become valid in the month of December?

A.—There will be three sugar-preserves coupons valid in December. S36 is valid on December 5 and S37, S38 become valid on December 19.

Q.—Is it possible for a civilian to purchase a suit without a priority suit certificate?

A.—After October 30 no priority suit certificates were issued for the purchase of gentlemen's suits. The certificates issued previous to October 30 were to be honoured until the end of December, and thus after that date ex-servicemen and civilians will stand an equal chance in purchasing their suits.

Q.—I am planning on selling my business and as I handle rationed commodities I would like to know if it is necessary to advise the Ration Administration of this.

A.—Any change in the ownership of a business which handles rationed goods must be reported immediately to the local branch of the Ration Administration.

Please send your questions or your request for the pamphlet "Consumers' News" or the Blue Book in which you keep track of your ceiling prices, mentioning the name of this paper to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in your province.

Harassed Minds

Psychiatrist States First Twenty Years Of Ones Life Is Most Critical

MONTREAL.—The first 20 years are the hardest, and the most critical. What one learns in the first two decades may condition his feelings of anxiety and guilt for the rest of his life.

This was emphasized by Dr. D. E. Zwarg, director of the Allan Memorial Institute of Psychiatry, in an address at a parents' meeting in St. George's School, Westmount.

"All of us," he said, "know people who are crippled by anxiety, who cannot make decisions, who take jobs far below their capacity because they cannot stand responsibility."

"All of us know people who are harassed by feelings of guilt over the most trivial things, who are so excessively scrupulous that they can never feel their work adequately completed, so conscience-ridden that they cannot enter with freedom into normal family relationships."

Dr. Zwarg fixed the responsibility on parental and their teaching.

"There is no evidence that the infant is born feeling guilty about anything. Twenty years later he will respond with anxiety and feelings of guilt to a great many things. But every single thing about which he feels anxious or guilty in his 20th year is the result of what we have taught him," he said.

The McGill University psychiatrist warned against the over-use of guilt and anxiety as control measures. "Most of us have little idea of how subtly they are used, how widespread and how strong are their effects. Still fewer have grasped how much damage their ignorant or unscrupulous use may cause."

CANADIAN EGGS BECOMING HEAVIER

Thanks To Experts In The Poultry Division

This is the story of the humble Canadian egg—the eating kind, of course—which is gradually moving into the heavyweight class.

That means, just in case it skipped your notice, that the egg you ate for breakfast this morning was heavier, healthier and better looking than those you had five, 10 or 20 years ago.

Chances are that it had a tougher shell, though it wouldn't actually bounce if you dropped it, and that the "white" was thicker, too, which means tastier-looking eggs for those who like them poached.

And, to top it off, there are more of the new variety because the Canadian hen is laying them faster.

Credit for this achievement in bringing a better egg to the Canadian breakfast table goes to the men of the poultry production service of the federal agriculture department and a flock of hens known as the blue-bloods of the baryard.

The experts are the men who administer the department's "record of production" policy, which aims at the improvement of Canada's poultry industry by placing stress on the use of approved, purebred family stock as laying flocks.

The service keeps tab on the production of selected flocks of certified birds and has proved over the years that an average production of 250 eggs and more per bird is possible with the use of selected hens.

The grand champion among all the hens under the service's statistical eye is one which laid 354 eggs in a single year. This was beaten out by a common baryard hen which produced 356 in a year but proved to be only a freak and of little use in the plan of breeding improved stock.

Production Up Again

Britain's Iron And Steel Output For October Well Above Average

LONDON.—The figures of Britain's iron and steel output during October, which have just been released, show a considerable production achievement in view of the fuel difficulties and limitations of transport.

Both in iron and steel in October the output was well above the average of the three preceding quarters of this year. The weekly average for pig iron was 155,800 tons compared with 147,300 tons in September and the 130,000 tons weekly average in 1938.

Steel production in the same month was 254,200 tons (weekly average) compared with 238,500 tons in September and 200,000 tons in 1938.

The annual rate of pig iron output now stands at rather more than 2,100,000 tons compared with 7,600,000 tons in the same month last year. For steel, the figure is 13,200,000 tons compared with 12,700,000 tons in October, 1945.

Exports, although still below the prewar average, have attained a volume more than twofold that of 1934. The October figures are not yet available, but the September returns show that shipments overseas, both of iron and steel, totalled 143,200 tons compared with the 163,300 and 142,200 monthly average in 1938 and 1945 respectively.

BACKACHE The Plague of Outdoor Men

The outdoor man, whether he be farmer, truck driver, or railway operator, is often subject to backache. This may be the result of exposure to cold and dampness or the result of strain from the jolting and bumping of the vehicle he rides.

To many people, women as well as men, it would be great to be free of backache—one of the most common and annoying of ailments. And here is how you may be relieved of backache and other symptoms of poisons in the blood.

The treatment suggested is Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills. By reason of their stimulating action on both the liver and kidneys, you have two chances to one of getting relief from your backache by using Dr. Chase's Pills. The torpid liver is aroused to action, the kidneys are stimulated and consequently these organs help to purify the blood of the poisonous impurities which bring pains and aches and tired feelings.

Keep regular and keep well by using Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills. 35c a box.

Holds One Record

Great Eastern Only Ship To Have Six Masts And Five Funnels

The following article was written by W. Orton Tewson, in "An Attic Salt Shaker."

The coming of the "Queen Elizabeth" recalls the fact that the "Great Eastern"—a full-rigged ship with auxiliary engines—built one hundred years ago, still holds one record of the shipbuilding world. No other ship has ever had five funnels and six masts!

"Noah's Ark was 300 cubits long, 50 cubits wide, and 30 cubits high; since a cubit is about 18 inches, Noah's Ark must have been a formidable craft 450 to 500 feet long," point out Eric Hodgins and F. Alexander Magoun, authors of "Behemoth: The Story of Power."

"No modern marine engineer had been sufficiently courageous to build a competing ship, until, in 1845, Scott Russell and his associates began, upon the banks of the river Thames, the construction of that premature leviathan known as the 'Great Eastern,'" state Messrs. Hodgins and Magoun. "She was 692 feet long, 83 feet beam (118 feet over the paddle boxes), 58 feet in depth, and 28 feet in draft. Her displacement was some 28,000 tons. It took four years to build her."

"She was a famous and picturesque craft, and a triumph of naval architecture. She had a double bottom (its first appearance), and fifty watertight compartments. Yet for all these physical dimensions, she was tragically under-engineered for her size. After living an unhappy and frustrated life, she was—in 1887—turned over to the ship-breakers and her twenty anchors scattered to the seven seas."

Block cuts for printing simple designs can be made by cutting a potato in half, carving the design, and printing by hand.

RATION BOOKS ISSUED PLACES POPULATION AT 12,120,044

The number of ration books distributed for 1946 indicated that Canada's population has increased by 613,389 since 1941.

The Prices Board said that 12,120,044 books were distributed for 1946, compared with 11,508,653 for 1945. Canada's population on the basis of the 1941 census was 11,506,653.

The Board said it could not give details of the population figures by provinces because the territories of ration districts overlapped provincial boundaries.

BRITISH COLUMBIA WOMAN BECOMES WHEAT QUEEN AT CHICAGO GRAIN SHOW

CHICAGO—Two Canadian "grain kings" and a "grain queen"—first of her sex ever crowned at the 47-year-old hay and grain show run in conjunction with the international livestock exposition here—were named in weekend judging.

The woman who won top honors was Mrs. Amy Kelsey, of Erickson, B.C., whose exhibit of hard red spring wheat—weighing 66.5 pounds a bushel—won for her the anomalous title of "wheat king of North America." She was not present at the judging, and officials said her entry was listed simply as that of "A. Kelsey."

Later advices from Nelson, B.C., identified her as the wife of Charles Kelsey of Erickson.

Other top Canadian winners were: Rye king—W. S. Simpson, of Dawson Creek, B.C., whose "Hiram Cane"—apparently a new species—weighed 56.6 pounds a bushel.

Oats king—Gordon McArthur, of Stayner, Ont., whose Beaver variety oats weighed 43.6 pounds a bushel.

Reserve wheat championship went to L. E. Peterson, of Victor, Mont., who showed a hard red winter variety weighing 66.2 pounds.

H. L. Stieglmeier, of Normal, Ill., was crowned soy bean king, his Lincoln variety having been selected as the best of hundreds of entries. His exhibit weighed 69.1 pounds to the bushel.

The reserve soy bean championship went to an other Canadian, Robert H. Peck, of River Canard, Ont., for his Harmon variety, weighing 69.2 pounds.

Canadians have won the wheat title ever since 1929. William Miller of Edmonton, Alta., was the 1941 king, having been selected as the last pre-war international. He also won with a variety of hard red spring wheat.

Reserve oat king was also a Canadian, Garnet B. Rickard, of Bowmarville, Alta., his Carter variety weighing 45.3 pounds to the bushel. R. P. Robbins, of Shaunavon, Sask., placed in a number of events. He took second spot in both the flax and the durum wheat competition, fifth in the hay and grain show, navy bean division, and seventh in the hard red spring wheat class.

A special Pillsbury award for an outstanding sample of wheat produced in the United States was given to P. H. Rasmussen, of Logan, Utah, for his Wasatch variety of hard red winter wheat. The sample weighed 63.3 pounds to the bushel.

The reserve Pillsbury champion was John C. Wills, of Alma, Mich., who showed a sample of white winter wheat, weighing 59.3 pounds.

Roy C. Chamber, of Fenwick, Ont., won the white winter wheat prize, John H. Harreaves, of Beachville, Ont., placing second.

Fred Pavley, of Wembley, Alta., placed second to Mrs. Kelsey in the hard red spring wheat class, while William Gibson, of Ladner, B.C., placed fifth. Twelfth was Victor Watson, of Aldrie, Alta.

The Ontario agricultural college livestock judging team tied for seventh place in the sheep judging class.

WHEAT BOARD CHAIRMAN SAYS CANADA'S EFFORT BROKE WORLD FOOD CRISIS

CALGARY—Canada and the United States together exported about 750,000,000 bushels of wheat, including flour, in the year ending June 30, 1946, George McIvor, chairman of the Canadian wheat board, said in an address to the Alberta wheat pool here. This constituted the largest wheat export in any 12-month period in the history of the north American continent and in addition to these supplies of wheat, both countries supplied quantities of other grains for human consumption.

"It was this unprecedented effort on the part of Canada and the United States which broke the back of the world food crisis of 1945-46. The world food problem of last year—one of potential hunger and starvation—was reduced to a problem of inadequate rations in many countries... but the worst that could have happened did not materialize."

Transportation has determined the board's attitude in regard to delivery quotas so far this year, he said.

"When navigation closes on the Great Lakes we will not have an adequate stock position in eastern Canada with which to provide for the requirements of our domestic mills and to provide for exports from Atlantic ports during the winter months. Two years ago we had 127,000,000 bushels of wheat in the east at the close of navigation. Last year we had 90,000,000 bushels. This year we will have 40,000,000 to 50,000,000 bushels in the east at the close. To maintain even a moderate movement via Atlantic ports from December to April inclusive, it will be necessary to class. Top honors in all classes went to the Ohio state university judges. The Quebec contestants in the sheep class tied with Oklahoma university youngsters with 1,171 points out of a possible 5,000.

In individual scores R. H. Marchington and J. C. Rennie of the Canadian class carried ninth and 10th places in the horse judging.

In the sheep judging J. A. Stewart was in a seven-way tie for 10th place. In the flint corn class Archie Laird, of Blenheim, Ont., took first prize, and D. H. Laird, also of Blenheim, placed second.

Barley championship went to Wallace Thompson, of Nash, N.D., and the reserve crown to L. A. Huebich, of Mundelein, Ill. Both scored with kindred type barley.

H. L. Wallgren, of Valley, Neb., was judged champion grower of threshed grain Sorghum. He exhibited a type called Martin Mile. Reserve champion was F. W. Chamberlin, of Carleton Place, Ont., who showed a blackball standard kafir type.

All-Time Record Price Being Paid For Lake Winnipeg Whitefish

WINNIPEG—Lake Winnipeg fishermen will receive approximately $400,000 for whitefish produced during the past summer season, Resources Minister J. S. McDiarmid of Manitoba said here.

An all-time record price of 19 cents a pound will be the unit price for the 1946 catch, he said. The gross amount to be paid fishermen will be the highest in the 61-year history of the Lake Winnipeg whitefish fishing industry. Previous record amount was $335,000 in 1945 when 15-cents-a-pound was paid.

FAVOR PLAN

Manitoba Municipalities Approve Car Insurance On Compulsory Basis

WINNIPEG—A resolution urging that automobile insurance be put on a compulsory basis and that it be issued and controlled by the provincial government was approved by delegates to the 43rd annual convention of the Union of Manitoba Municipalities here.

Other resolutions approved included one asking that the provincial government pay a portion of the liquor control commission profits to the municipalities as a grant to enable them to keep roads in repair.

Delegates approved a resolution asking that the provincial government be requested to increase the legislative grant to an amount sufficient to pay 50 per cent. of the cost of rural education throughout Manitoba.

SUIT ESPECIALLY VALUABLE

CHICAGO—Benjamin Kolkey told Filmore police that a burglar broke into his home and stole six suits. He expressed hope the officers would find one of them, which he described as especially valuable. In one of the pockets, he said, was $890 in cash.

WINS NOBEL PEACE PRIZE

Co-winner of the Nobel peace prize is Miss Emily Greene Balch, 73, a frail little woman who is undergoing treatment at the Newton-Wellesley hospital, Wellesley, Mass. "This is not an award to me," she said after reading the cable telling her of the honor. "It is an award to the organization in which I worked so long, the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom."

WILLING TO PAY

Report Says United States Newspaper Syndicate Wants Story From Gouzenko

OTTAWA—The Evening Citizen said that Igor Gouzenko, former Russian embassy cipher clerk who disclosed a Soviet spy ring in Canada, has been offered $80,000 for the "inside story of the plan to honeycomb Canada with one of the most elaborate espionage networks ever uncovered."

The newspaper said the offer had been made by a large United States newspaper syndicate.

R.C.M.P. officials declined to comment on the report. Gouzenko has been in the "protective custody" of the R.C.M.P. since September, 1945, when he first told his story to officials.

Neither science nor industry has been able to determine why the pinks failed to run in their usual numbers. Most of the other British Columbia varieties were taken in larger numbers than last year, and the sockeye catch was one of the heaviest on record.

U.K. RATIONS TO CONTINUE

LONDON—Indications that food rationing in Britain will continue for at least another 1½ years came from Rt. Hon. John Strachey, Food Minister. He told a questioner in the House of Commons that ration books through July, 1948, are being printed.

CANADIANS TO GET MORE SALMON

Allocation Of 500,000 Cases Is Made For Householders

OTTAWA—Housewives who have been scratching through grocery store shelves in search of scarce canned salmon for several years had good news from the fisheries department.

The word was that more tinned salmon would go on the domestic market from this year's pack than in any recent year. The allocation for the Canadian householder will be 500,000 cases, against 300,000 last year and much less than that in several earlier years.

The 500,000-case share of the pack, experts here estimated, is "not greatly below" normal Canadian requirements.

The enlargement in the Canadian allocation has been brought about despite a 400,000-case drop in British Columbia's pack for this year. While canning operations for the year are not over in British Columbia, the department says it is a safe bet the pack will not be much more than 1,300,000 cases as against slightly more than 1,700,000 last year.

As the western catch dwindled, it was feared for a time that Canada's own consumption of the fish would be slashed further. But the situation was met by reducing shipments to other countries.

The big drop in British Columbia output was caused by a mysterious diminution in the numbers of "pinks"—one of five varieties taken on the Pacific coast—to appear in their usual haunts this year.

Last year, the pack of pinks was $25,000 cases. But up until this month, the canneries had put up only 117,000 cases and the final count probably won't go over 125,000.

Neither science nor industry has been able to determine why the pinks failed to run in their usual numbers. Most of the other British Columbia varieties were taken in larger numbers than last year, and the sockeye catch was one of the heaviest on record.

UNITED STATES PLAN WOULD SMASH FOREVER JAPAN'S POWER FOR WAR-MAKING

CHARGED WITH CARELESS

DRIVING—Screen Actress Louise Albritton was charged with driving "negligently and carelessly" in a $53,702 damage suit filed in Los Angeles by Mrs. Mary Sprosty, mother of Margaret Sprosty, 10, who suffered multiple injuries when Miss Albritton's car struck her Oct. 22.

People Know Canada Savings Bonds

Are Good Investment

OTTAWA—Subscriptions in the first month of sales of Canada Savings Bonds surpassed the amounts subscribed in the first and second war loans in 1940 and 1941, a survey disclosed.

From Oct. 14, when the Canada bonds went on sale, to Nov. 15, approximately 1,149,150 Canadians subscribed more than $497,223,850. Subscriptions in the first war loan totaled $250,000,000 and in the second $324,945,000.

Biggest previous loan was the $2,000,000,000 Ninth victory loan in 1945.

WASHINGTON—In a move to smash Japan's war-making power forever, reparations commissioner Edwin W. Pauley has recommended swift Allied removal of about three-fourths of her key iron, steel and machine tool industries, it was disclosed.

President Truman has sent Mr. Pauley's detailed report outlining a suggested American reparations policy to members of the senate foreign relations and house of representatives foreign affairs committees.

Mr. Pauley's sweeping recommendations also would reduce Japan's once-powerful merchant fleet to 1,500,000 tons needed for eastern trading only and ban all Japanese commercial voyages to other world ports.

In addition to outlawing all war and munitions industries, Mr. Pauley suggested complete removal of every magnesium, aluminum, and synthetic oil plant, plus at least 50 per cent. of the electric power facilities.

Presumably, the report will form the basis of the United States attitude at an 11-power reparations conference scheduled for early December. Russia's refusal to accept an American invitation thus far has prevented an earlier meeting.

Turning Japan's iron and steel industry "a powerful weapon for domination of Asia," Mr. Pauley recommended its capacity be cut to an annual capacity of 2,750,000 tons—less than two per cent. of the amount produced in the United States annually.

This would permit the Allies to divide among themselves 6,000,000 tons of open hearth capacity, 3,000,000 tons of electric furnace facilities along with machinery capable of rolling 6,000,000 tons of iron and steel.

Statistics Show That Canadians Spending Plenty

OTTAWA—Heavy spending engendered by high wartime salaries is continuing in Canada and as yet there is no sign of any let-up, a survey disclosed here.

A Dominion bureau of statistics report on retail sales in September indicated that spending is increasing, possibly as a result of more consumer goods becoming available.

Prices board officials said the report—the latest available—was the best indication of what Canadians were doing with their money.

The officials were commenting on a Sydney, Australia, dispatch which said a spending orgy which came in Australia with the end of the war is petering out and people have become sparing both in their pleasures and domestic purchases.

A source in close touch with the business world said that "Canadians who have it still are spending plenty."

A government official said that while Canadians were spending a lot of money on non-luxury goods they were also paying a good deal for entertaining purposes.

For instance, preliminary figures showed the apparent consumption of alcoholic beverages was 50 per cent. higher this year than in 1945.

Despite the expenditures, a chartered bank statement showed savings deposits still are rising. At Sept. 31 the savings on deposit totalled $5,524,145,000 against $3,465,731,000 at Aug. 31 and $2,934,545,000 at Sept. 30, 1945.

A report on the sales of Canada savings bonds showed that Canadians purchased close to $500,000,000 worth in the first 30 days after the issue went on sale.

The bureau of statistics report indicated that in September Canadians purchased more of just about everything, except shoes. Retail sales generally were 11 per cent. higher, but shoe sales were down two per cent.

The Christmas season is expected to bring a market increase in retail sales and of spending generally.

Bust Of Sir Charles Saunders Unveiled At Experimental Farm, Ottawa

OTTAWA—The man who developed the wheat that made Canada famous—Sir Charles Edward Saunders—was honored in a ceremony at the central experimental farm here when his bust was unveiled in a building bearing the name of his father, William Saunders.

Sir Charles, who died in Toronto 10 years ago, was best known as the developer of Marquis wheat, but also evolved other varieties such as Prelude and Garnet. He is credited with originating the first important steps in plant breeding in Canada, and agriculture department official estimate that his Marquis wheat has brought revenues of $20,000,000 a year to the Dominion.

LOCAL NEWS

Wm. White returned home on Wednesday following a business trip to Calgary.

Born: To Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Loissele, nee Dorothy Cooke, at Kleecoot, Vancouver Island, a son.

John Anderson Jr was allowed home Saturday afternoon from the local hospital where he had been a patient for several weeks.

Miss Joyce Gunn, of Calgary, spent the week end at St. Alban's rectory as the guest of Miss Wilma Graziar.

Mr. John Kroesing, of New Westminster, arrived back in town at the week end John sold his trucking interests here last Christmas and left for the west coast.

Coleman town workmen were busy on Monday afternoon trucking away several tons of snow that obstructed view at the corners of the various intersections on main street.

Will all who have donations of fancy work for St. Paul's Ladies Auxiliary bazaar please leave same at the manse or with the secretary Mrs. J. R. Kerr, before the evening of December 12. Thank you.

his plants bloom.

Quiet natured, he was to be seen daily in the spring and summer mornings walking down town for his mail. He knew many and his broad Scottish dialect will be remembered by friends for a long time to come. Proud of his native land he took keen interest in the Caledonian Society which was last organized in Coleman by Rev. A. E. Larke. In 1942 he and Mrs. Fyfe were honored by the Caledonians on the occasion of their fiftieth anniversary. Mr. Dave Gillespie, society president, presented Mrs. Fyfe with a beautiful bouquet of carnations. During the festivities the honored couple led the Grand March.

Surviving are his daughters, Mrs. Alex. Morency, Mrs. Dave Robert, Mrs. George Ford and Mrs. Roach Oliver; 14 grandchildren and 9 great-grandchildren. Deceased was the last remaining member in his family, his last brother predeceasing him a few years ago. Mrs. Fyfe was also the last member on her side of the family.

Mrs. Ralph Simbalist and baby of Picture Butte and Norman Ford, Calgary Technical School student, were present for the funeral in addition to the other family members residing in the various Pass towns.

The funeral was held on Monday afternoon, services being held in St. Paul's United church with Rev. Dr. Magowan conducting. Hymns sung were the same as those sung at Mrs. Fyfe's funeral service, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" and "Rock of Ages."

The pallbearers were also the same as those who officiated at Mrs. Fyfe's funeral, four sons-in-law, D. C. Robert, George Ford, R. Oliver and Alex. Morency, and two grandsons, Ronnie Fyfe and Norman Ford.

Playgoers' Club To Sponsor Drama Concert Wednesday

One-Act Plays, to Feature
Young and Talented Artists;
Tickets Now on Sale.

The newly organized Coleman Playgoers club will sponsor its initial drama concert in the Community hall on Wednesday at 8 p.m. when three one act plays will be presented.

The club is making a strong bid to keep Coleman out in front in drama circles in southern Alberta and have enrolled a large membership largely of young and enthusiastic boys and girls of school age. Coleman's drama stalwarts of many years are also key members and are giving of their time and talent to these youthful new members.

Rehearsals have been held constantly during the past few months and this week the club received permission to use the high school auditorium which will aid greatly both the directors and casts.

The three one-act plays, entitled "The Trysting Place", "The Florist Shop" and "The Pot Boiler" will be enacted.

The curtain will go up sharply at 8 p.m. As in the case of the Drama Festival held each spring under the sponsorship of the Lions club, it is important that all members of the audience be seated by 8 p.m. To enter the hall during the progress of a play distracts members of the cast and this is definitely to be eliminated if at all possible.

Club members are selling admission tickets and Coleman Cash grocery has been appointed as a ticket depot. Secure tickets quickly as only enough tickets to cover seating accommodation will be sold.
